Inspiring Young Minds

We bring enthusiastic business volunteers from the world of work into the classroom to motivate and inspire young people to value education and equip them with the skills they need to succeed at school and in life.

Young Enterprise London believes that every child deserves to be supported to reach their full potential – what better way than through education.

Work with Us

Part of an international organisation called Junior Achievement; YEL was established in 2003 and has grown from reaching 1,500 children in its first year to 90,000 this year.

We have a range of programmes which teach enterprise skills to young people; provide personal development programmes and offer an exciting insight into businesses and the economy.

Using the 'learning by doing' approach, all programmes are delivered in the classroom, in partnership with the teacher, by volunteers from the world of work.

Can you help?

This year we need to raise almost £2 million to meet the demand for YEL programmes for 90,000 young people across London.

Help us change children's lives by joining our Personal Membership Scheme. For just £30 per year (£3 per month) you will be helping to make a contribution towards the education of 1000s of young Londoners.

If you have been a YE volunteer, business adviser, teacher, supporter or student you will recognise the valuable experience young people will gain with your help.

Personal Membership Scheme

As well as providing an opportunity to 'give something back' the membership scheme will help to form a committed group of YEL supporters.

For each member we will provide:

- A certificate of membership.
- YEL newsletters – updating you about YEL activities and opportunities to promote new young businesses.
- Invitations to local YEL events including new programme launches.
- Invitations to help support your local volunteer area management boards.
- Volunteering opportunities.
- Networking opportunities.
